

Contributing Authors

Hal Anderson is Associate Professor of Mathematics Education at California State University, Long Beach. He has taught mathematics content and methods courses for pre- and inservice elementary teachers for thirty-two years. He can be contacted at handerso@csulb.edu

Lu Chang is Associate Professor of Education and Chair of the Department of Teacher Education at Notre Dame de Namur University. Her primary research interests are in teacher education, teaching English Learners, and cross-cultural studies. She can be contacted at lchang@ndnu.edu.

Robert J. Ferrera is Associate Professor of Education and Director of the Multiple Subject Credential Program at Notre Dame de Namur University. He has served as Superintendent of Schools in three districts and has been Assistant Superintendent for the Santa Clara County Office of Education. He can be contacted at bferrara@ndnu.edu

Tom Forbes is a Professor with the Department of Education at Simpson College.

Kristin D. Geiser is Assistant Professor of Education and Chair of the Advanced Studies Department at Notre Dame de Namur University. She develops and supports various programs to support teachers and educational leaders to improve social justice through collaborative inquiry and implementation of evidence-based practices. Her research areas are teacher development and equity-centered reform. She can be contacted at kgeiser@ndnu.edu

Karen Hackett is a BTSA Director with the Sutter County Superintendent of Schools Office.

Terence Janicki is a Professor with the Department of Professional Studies in Education at California State University, Chico.

Simon Kim is Associate Professor of Educational Psychology at California State University, Long Beach. His research interests are in instructional and assessment practices, culturally and linguistically diverse students, and program evaluation. He can be contacted at skim6@csulb.edu

Ruth Knudson is Professor of Education in the Department of Teacher Education at CSU Long Beach. Her primary research and teaching interests are literacy and teacher education. She currently teaches both the elementary and secondary reading/writing methods classes at CSULB. She can be contacted at knudson@csulb.edu

David Moguel is Assistant Professor of Social Studies Education at California State University, Northridge. He teaches social studies methods in secondary education and coordinates the secondary education student teaching program. He can be contacted at david.l.moguel@csun.edu

Cathy Pohan is Associate Professor of Teacher Education and Educational Psychology at San Diego State University. She is the university liaison for the San Diego State University/Chula Vista Elementary School District Professional Development School. Her scholarly interests are in the areas of teacher preparation and practical applications for addressing issues of equity and social justice in classrooms and schools. She can be contacted at pohan@mail.sdsu.edu

James Richmond is a Professor with the Department of Professional Studies in Education at California State University, Chico.

Cathy Szychulda is a BTSA Director with the Tehama County Department of Education.

Nancy Turner is a BTSA Director with the Butte County Office of Education.